The Report of the Superintendent of the Central Hospital
Gives Interesting Statistics.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 17.—Attorney-General R. D. Gilmer left this morning for Charlotte to appear in the Federal court there tomorrow in defense of J. W. Simpson, the Rutherford county registrar of elections, who was indicted after the last general election for refusing to register a number of negroes. It will be remembered that a similar case had at the last term of the court.

It is announced that the next annual meeting will be held in Burlington, beginning December 20th, continuing to January 1st, and that indications are for an exceptionally successful affair.

NEW BANK.—The Bank of Richmond, Robinson county, was chartered today, with $100,000 capital. D. J. Craig being principal incorporator.

The Craig-Planigan Harness Company, of Staunton, is chartered, with $100,000 capital. D. J. Craig being principal incorporator.

The University Oil and Fertilizer Company, of Wilmington, is chartered, with $100,000 capital. B. G. and W. E. Worth being the principal incorporators.

A charter is granted to the Pilot Funeral Company, of Mountain, with $50,000 capital authorized.

REPORT OF INSANE.—The report of Dr. McKee, superintendent of the Central Hospital for the insane here, submitted to the Board of Directors, shows that there are 423 patients, and that the average per capita cost of keeping them for the year was $170. There are now on file urgent applications for the admission of 103 others, but every ward is crowded to its utmost capacity.

The directors of the State Hospital ordered the renewal of $58,000 insurance on the premises, and approved a statement of the expenses of the institution for the year, aggregating $48,400.

The argument of end of the docket cases in the Supreme Court was concluded today, the most notable being the appeal of Clarence Potter, who is under sentence to be hanged in Watauga county. A new trial was asked on the ground of erroneous rulings and charges to the jury by the first judge.

VERY GOOD NOSE.

Game Warden's Dog Cannot be Fooled by Hares.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GREENSBORO, N. C., Dec. 17.—Game Warden Weatherly confiscated seventy-five more partridges at the express railway office last night. They were sold this morning for $1.50 per dozen. The birds were undressed, and their discovery was again due to the remarkable "nose" of the game warden's setter dog. Saturday night, while the dog was watching a suspicious barrel, he found nothing but rabbits; yet is now satisfied that he missed the game from his experience last night. The dog last night told him there were birds in the barrel. He knocked at the barrel, and there were the rabbits. The dog insisted by whines that birds were there. He knocked the other head out, and still found rabbits. Still the dog protested that birds were about, rearing up on the barrel and running off a few feet and coming to a dead end. "Darned if I don't see if that dog's smarter than me," exclaimed the game warden, as he held up one end of the barrel and poured its contents out on the platform. With a cry of delight the dog rushed to the platform and soon had his nose buried in partridges. There were seventy-five of them "nestled" in the center of the barrel, feathers and all.

He says he was filled with morphine when he shot, and thought the marshals came into his house to kill and rob him.

LOST HER BEAUTY; SUES THE DOCTOR

Once Pretty Girl Wants Ten Thousand Dollars Damages for Loss of Good Looks.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Miss Margaret Irmalfoldy today sued Peter Aezel Zold, a Hungarian beauty doctor, for $10,000 damages, for alleged destruction of her good looks.

In an affidavit submitted by A. H. Hummel, Miss Irmalfoldy, who was regarded as one of the prettiest young women of the Hungarian colony, avers that the doctor was responsible for the fact that he could not find a girl who had killed the bill at the last session. He said he had received a telegram from Senator Elkins, of West Virginia, to the effect that the senator had learned of the position of the bill in the measure, and had killed it. This made the members of the committee gasp, for Senator Quay sent a similar telegram to a manufacturer in his district last spring, and the advocates of the bill with the responsibility for its death. The question now is, in the language of one of the committee, "Who killed cock robin?"

Those heard in favor of the bill were John Landstreet, of the Clear Manufacturers' Association; James Wood, of Cincinnati, vice-president of the Clear Manufacturers' Association; and Mr. Makors' International Union and Mr. Rogersburg and Sons, manufacturers of Havana cigars.

Representatives W. W. Kitchen, of North Carolina, and Shirley, of Kentucky, and William McKelvey, of West Virginia, opposed the bill. Other hearings will be held.

SALES OF TOBACCO ON LOCAL MARKET

Tobacco is selling unusually well on the local market and the prices are proving much better than many dared to expect. The farmers seem, as a rule, to be very agreeably surprised. The docket cases in the Supreme Court was concluded today, the most notable being the appeal of Clarence Potter, who is under sentence to be hanged in Watauga county. A new trial was asked on the ground of erroneous rulings and charges to the jury by the first judge.

BRIGHT GIRLS GET A LONGER HOLIDAY

Some of the bright girls of the Woman's College, Dr. James Nelson's high school, are enjoying the Christmas holidays. This is due to a departure from the custom of prescribing written examinations for the young ladies before the Christmas holidays, and the other two between that time and the commencement in June.

To Wed in Buckingham.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SHELBYVILLE, N. C., Dec. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. William B. Spohn have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ora Lyle Spohn, to Mr. Harry G. Spohn, of Buckingham, Va., at the residence of the bride's parents, on Saturday afternoon, December 19th, at 2 o'clock.

North Carolina Sentiment.

The Wilmington Messenger concludes a long article on the Bassett-Trinity affair with this paragraph: "There are a great many people who think the newspapers cannot get along without their contentment and friendship, but when they understand the cause of the theory into practice they find they have more need of the paper than the paper has of them."

The Raleigh Times says:

"It is not fair to account for the way the trustees of Trinity College voted, by reciting their relations to business and their connections with outside circumstances. We do not know personally all of these gentlemen, but those we do know would not be dishonest or unprincipled. We are sure of that."

The Charlotte Observer, which believes in your Uncle Grover, makes this hit:

"The Memphis News, which is the craziest of the bunch, is perfectly sure that the trustees of Trinity College voted because he saw that he could not get the nomination. 'There is little doubt,' it says, 'but that he was a receptive candidate. Had he not been, why did he not, long ago, adopt the course of action which he has now taken?' And if he had done so 'The Memphis News' would have been the first to say to him, 'You had better have waited until they were asked.'"

A MODEL PAPER.

Much Appreciated Letter Received by The Times-Dispatch.

Perhaps, nothing so lightens life's daily burden as an occasional word of commendation; certainly nothing is more appreciated by the writer.

WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?

This Question Being Asked in Regard to the Ojien-Tawney Bill.

WILL NOT SEAT THE NEGRO

Election Committee, However, Will Likely Criticise Constitutions of Southern States.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 17.—The Ojien-Tawney bill, which provides that manufacturers of tobacco shall not give away anything of value in the package, the anti-coupon bill, was considered by the Ways and Means committee today. The feature of the bill in the committee was the testimony of Mr. Black, of Wheeling, the manufacturer of one of the best known brands of smoking tobacco in the United States, who bitterly opposed the bill last year and in the independent tobacco manufacturers, led the opposition to the movement to have the association endorse the bill.

In the course of his testimony Mr. Black stated, in response to a question, that the doctor was responsible for the fact that he could not find a girl who had killed the bill at the last session. He said he had received a telegram from Senator Elkins, of West Virginia, to the effect that the senator had learned of the position of the bill in the measure, and had killed it. This made the members of the committee gasp, for Senator Quay sent a similar telegram to a manufacturer in his district last spring, and the advocates of the bill with the responsibility for its death. The question now is, in the language of one of the committee, "Who killed cock robin?"

Those heard in favor of the bill were John Landstreet, of the Clear Manufacturers' Association; James Wood, of Cincinnati, vice-president of the Clear Manufacturers' Association; and Mr. Makors' International Union and Mr. Rogersburg and Sons, manufacturers of Havana cigars.

Representatives W. W. Kitchen, of North Carolina, and Shirley, of Kentucky, and William McKelvey, of West Virginia, opposed the bill. Other hearings will be held.

CRITICISE NEW CONSTITUTIONS.

It is learned today that Elections Committee No. 1 will vote upon the recommendation of the Senate to reject the constitution of the State of South Carolina District, whose seat is being contested by Dantzler, a negro. As the contestant only got 157 votes and Lever received 4,230, there is no doubt that the committee would reject the constitution. It was thought that it might say that there was no election, and declare the seat vacant.

It is learned, however, that while the committee is recommending the rejection of the constitution, the Senate will not do so. The committee will recommend the rejection of the constitution, but the Senate will not do so.

Representative Gaines, of West Virginia, is the champion of the committee, and he is what all his colleagues term a mighty good fellow. He is firmly of the opinion that the States which have denied the right of franchise to the negro should have their representation reduced in the proportion to the number of negroes disfranchised.

SOIL SUVEYS.

Representative Flood said today that he was making arrangements to have the Department of Agriculture send soil surveyors to various counties of his district. He thinks that he will succeed in having the department make surveys in Rockbridge, Augusta, Amherst, Appomattox, Fluvanna, Buckingham and Cumberland counties. He thinks that the department will be in position to advise as to the constituents needed in the soil, and the method of culture best adapted to practically every variety of soil in the "Tenth" territory.

He also has arranged to have a survey of the Botetourt made some time ago, and the farmers of the county say it was of great value to them.

Representative Hay has introduced a bill appropriating forty thousand dollars for the completion of the Jefferson memorial office lesson road, from the railway station at Charlottesville to the monument to Thomas Jefferson, over his grave on the road to Monticello. The bill recites that the road is rough and high, with a maximum grade in ascending Monticello Mountains of sixteen feet in one hundred, that an organization of patriotic citizens have partially constructed a new road with a maximum grade of four feet in one hundred, and that it has been demonstrated that private subscriptions are inadequate to complete the work.

WILL NAME ELLIOTT.

Representative Slemph has introduced a bill providing for the erection of a public building at Wytheville. The bill also appropriates $10,000 for the erection of a government building at Big Stone Gap.

The President is expected to send to the Senate in a few days the recommendation of Postmaster General Charles D. Smith, of the friends of Mrs. J. Hampton Hoge thought there was still hope of her being appointed, and it was said that Senator Scott, who is backing her for the position, was making a last effort to induce the President to change his mind.

Mr. Roosevelt has said positively that he will reappoint Mr. Elliott, who has the endorsement of the Republican organization, county, district and State.

Mr. William A. Glasgow, Jr., one of the leading lawyers of Roanoke, is in Washington on business.

Mrs. John W. Daniel and her mother, Mrs. Murrell, of Lynchburg; Mrs. Thomas Martin, of Staunton; and Mrs. S. Martin, of Martinsburg, were a party at luncheon at the Senate restaurant.

Mr. John A. McCann, manager of the advertising department, Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedies, writes: "Philadelphia, Dec. 15, 1903. 'Times-Dispatch,' Richmond, Va.: 'Dear Sirs.—We not only feel it a duty, but a pleasure, to write you in praise of your issue of Sunday, December 13th. This letter is not written on a blank sheet of paper, but on a sheet of paper which has been given to me by your issue of Sunday, December 13th. Not only a model paper, but a model for all papers of your class, but a model for all papers in the United States. It is evident that you not only have the good of the advertiser very strongly in mind, while preparing your paper, but you also seem to keep before you the important fact that there is much due to the subscriber and reader. You have preserved the balance of right and justice between the two so carefully that nothing is left to be desired by either party. We could say much more in reference to 'The Times-Dispatch,' but, perhaps, this is enough to prove to you how thoroughly we appreciate your methods, and we do not believe that we are alone in this feeling. Every advertiser in your paper should be pleased, because all the news is presented attractively, and the holiday news, so dear to the feminine heart, comes in for its share of attention and careful handling. With best wishes, we are, Yours very truly, MUNYON'S H. H. REMEDY CO. (Signed) JOHN A. MCCANN, Manager Advertising."

Russell, alias Clark, who were arrested here last week on the charge of blowing safes in Jacksonville, Fla., Savannah, Ga., and New Orleans, La., have waived their right to a trial in the Recorder's Court today on the charges of bringing burglars' tools into the State and of carrying concealed weapons. The Grace She Said.

Little Mary is a preacher's daughter and would not more think of eating without saying grace than of going without saying grace. The father of her playmate, Lizzie, is a different kind of man, whose expressions of devotion have been the cause of the celebration of the types. Yesterday Mary went over to play with Lizzie, and they had a tea party. Lizzie was the father and Mary the mother, and a long row of dolls made a numerous family.

Minister From New Republic of Panama Makes Speech in Philadelphia.

HER GREED AND TYRANNY

These Causes, He Says, of Revolution Resulting in Birth of Panama Republic.

(By Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 17.—P. Bunau-Varilla, the minister from Panama to the United States, delivered an address at the regular meeting of the members of the American Academy of Political and Social Science in Griffith Hall, this city, on "The Conditions Under Which the New Republic Was Founded." Mr. Bunau-Varilla said that in 1901 the then Colombian minister, Silva, warned his government of the probable secession of Panama, in case the canal question should not receive a solution in harmony with the ardent wishes of the Isthmians. The speaker told of his campaign in favor of the Panama route in 1901, and of the passage of the Spooner bill in 1902. He told of how Dr. Herran was sent to Washington by Colombia to take the place of Mr. Concha, of the difficulty of securing a suitable compensation to Colombia, and then said:

"I tried to present Marroquin that I was convinced that if he made an offer of $100,000 cash and $250,000 annuity it could not be accepted by the United States. Dr. Herran made, then, a proposition according to the terms I had fixed, and it was readily accepted by the United States. The attitude of President Marroquin seemed to guarantee that he understood the situation."

The speaker said after the Colombian Congress had been elected, "fearing some treachery before Congress began its task in Bogota, I sent to President Marroquin a last telegram, in which I warned him of the danger that would result for Colombia from any tentative amendments to the Hay-Herran treaty." After the rejection of the treaty he made a supreme attempt to guard Colombia against herself, and made two independent efforts to protect her against the foolishness of her policy in the beginning of September.

Mr. Bunau-Varilla denounced the greed and tyranny of the Bogota government, and declared its course was one of black-mail.

compelled the party in the whiteboat. It was found that the schooner had on board a hundred armed Colombian soldiers, commanded by General Rafael Novoa, who is a resident of Bogota, commander-in-chief of the Colombian forces of the Atlantic and Pacific, had a large camp a mile away on the mainland.

PROTEST MADE.—General Novoa requested Lieutenant Perrill to land and confer with General Ortiz. After temporarily returning to the Atlanta, Lieutenant Perrill went back to the schooner, which in the meantime had taken up a position on the beach. Great excitement prevailed among the Colombians on the whiteboat's approach. There were repeated cries of "Viva Colombia," and there was a sudden concentration of about 150 Colombian soldiers on the beach.

For some moments the situation seemed dangerous and had the appearance of an ambush.

General Ortiz appeared on the beach when Lieutenant Perrill went ashore, the whiteboat in the meantime being close to the beach. General Ortiz insisted that Lieutenant Perrill should fly the Colombian flag at the bow of the whiteboat, or lower the American flag at the stern, because she was in Colombian waters.

Lieutenant Perrill replied that he did not have the Colombian flag, and refused to lower the Stars and Stripes.

General Ortiz did not insist upon his so doing, but he protested in writing against the presence of the Americans in Colombian waters. Lieutenant Perrill accepted the protest and conveyed it to Commander Tucker, who handed it to Admiral Coghlan on his arrival here.

LINED BY SENTINELS.—During the conference with the Colombians ashore, Lieutenant Perrill was surrounded by General Ortiz's staff, while inland, a few paces, there was a semicircle of armed sentinels. The beach in both directions was also lined by sentinels.

General Ortiz did not permit Lieutenant Perrill to leave the point of the beach where he landed.

While Perrill was awaiting the Colombian protest, First Lieutenant Edward B. Manwiling, commanding the Marine Guard of the Atlanta, roved up in a tug for the purpose of communicating with Lieutenant Perrill, and to gain certain military information.

The Colombian camp appeared to be permanent, was well provisioned, and probably destined to be used as a base of operations.

General Ortiz and others freely expressed the determination of Colombia to fight to the bitter end in case General Reyes' visit to Washington is not successful, and Panama is not returned to Colombia.

FUNERAL OF MRS. GIBSON TO-MORROW

The Services Will be Held at Noon From Holy Trinity Church.

Mrs. Robert A. Gibson, the wife of the Bishop of Virginia, entered into rest yesterday morning at 7:15 o'clock. Though in delicate health for some time past, the seriousness of her condition became manifest only about three weeks ago, when, by the advice of her physician, she was taken to Baltimore, Md., for special treatment. After a brave struggle on her part and that of her anxious and faithful nurses; remembered in the prayers of devoted people in this Diocese, and elsewhere, and surrounded by her family, she passed into life shortly after the sunrise of Thursday.

Mrs. Gibson was the daughter of the late A. H. H. Stuart, of Staunton, Va. She is survived by her sons, Messrs. Stuart and churchman Gibson, and by three daughters, Messrs. Lucy, Frances and Mary Gibson. Her two sisters are Mrs. Hunter McGuire, of this city, and Mrs. Alexander Robertson, of Staunton.

Mrs. Gibson was born in 1818, and was therefore nearly fifty-five years of age. With her accomplishments and talents she has been more than a help-mate to her devoted husband in his high and holy duties.

Gentle and loving, faithful and true in all the relations of life, she will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends and admirers.

Her body was brought to Richmond from Baltimore last night for burial this morning at 10 o'clock in the morning at noon to-morrow from Holy Trinity Church, the Episcopal clergy of the city acting as pall-bearers and the interment will be made in Hollywood.
